VERNAN KEE

designs inspired by heritage

A truly original artist, Vernan was born and raised without commercialized influences. His inspiration comes from something closer to heart – the land and his family. Following his time in the military, it was art and the outdoors that provided him a path to healing. This series is full of the sharp, geometric edges of traditional Navajo rugs that echo the landscape of his home. We're grateful to have Vernan share his heritage through these designs.
